FISHING

The loch enjoys a good reputation among coarse anglers, particularly because of the pike, roach, perch and now bream caught in recent seasons. Catches indicate an increase in the size of fish being taken. Game fishing has also taken place at Loch Ken over many years.

Anyone fishing our stretch at Loch Ken Holiday Park may have two lines (maximum) in the water at any one time. Other rods, although not actually fishing, must not occupy pegs on the bank.

All rubbish including discarded fishing tackle, especially line and hooks must be gathered up and put in the bins provided. Bottles and cans must be put in the recycling bins which are also provided on the Park.

Unless you intend to eat them, fish should be returned to the water in a healthy state.
